Future Plans of 1992 Graduates

Catherine Albinet, with her husband Ron, who graduated last year, will be going to teach in a Middle Eastern Bible institute.

Brett Andrews will continue to serve with Youth For Christ as director for Woodstock, ON.

Jimmy Au will continue serving with Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship at Brock University, St. Catharines, ON, and with the Chinese Christian Fellowship at McMaster University, Hamilton, ON. He hopes to lead a mission team to the Maritimes this summer.

Margot Ball will continue as officer manager for the family business, as well as Sunday School superintendent at Willowdale Pentecostal Church, North York, ON.

Goh Peng Beh, an ordained Methodist minister, will be serving as professor of Old Testament and Pastoral Studies at Malaysia Theological Seminary, Kuala Lumpur, West Malaysia.

John Beukema will continue to pastor Westmount Park (AGC) Church, Etobicoke, ON. He will begin doctoral studies at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School this coming January.

David Buchner intends to continue as work-skills instructor with Christian Horizons until a pastoral opportunity arises.

Grace Chin wants to work with Muslims in Toronto, or in a Chinese congregation.

Enoch Cho will continue his studies in Korea.

Greg Clarke will be ministering as associate pastor at Coaldale Mennonite Brethren Church, Coaldale, AB.

Pamela Cousins is planning to get a job teaching English as a second language in Toronto.

Robert Denhoed will continue serving as pastor of First Baptist (BCOQ) Church, Thornbury, ON.

Ruth Draffin will be attending Vancouver School of Theology for a year to fulfill the ordination requirements of the Presbyterian Church.

Marilyn Draper is looking forward to her new role as a mother (baby is due in June). In January, she hopes to begin a doctoral program in New Testament studies.

Noel Draper will do an MA at the Centre of Religious Studies at the University of Toronto and then go on to a PhD program. He plans to teach, "making the university classroom his parish." (He expects to do much of his studying while rocking the baby at 3 a.m.!)

James Evans will resume full-time pastoral ministry in Metro Toronto.

D. Ian Fitzpatrick will be director of Metro Toronto Ministries for the Church of the Nazarene. He will also be the director of Toronto Nazarene Bible Institute.

Randy Friesen will continue as director of Youth Mission International, a summer missions program for young adults sponsored by the Mennonite Brethren Church of North America.

Glenn Gibson will be administrator for the Eastern District of the Missionary Church of Canada and will begin teaching church-planting at Emmanuel Bible College, Kitchener, ON, in September.

Gordon Gillis plans to serve as an officer in the Salvation Army. Toward that end, he will be entering the School for Officer's Training in September of 1993. He also desires to further his education at Fuller Theological Seminary in California.

Gary Grieco will continue to work as a professional engineer for Environment Canada.

Tom Hamilton will be pursuing studies in History at the University of Toronto.

Sung-Sam Han will continue as pastor at the Korean Pentecostal Mission Church, Peterborough, ON.

Denise Handy will continue involvement in evangelism at Fallingbrook Heights Baptist (BCOQ) Church, Scarborough, ON.

Jim Hardwick plans to enter the pastorate with the BCOQ.

Rick Hill will continue to serve as associate pastor at Burlington Alliance Church, Burlington, ON.

Rosemary Hill plans to be involved in church planting overseas.

Kevin Hon will be assistant pastor at the Toronto Chinese Methodist Church, Toronto.

Daniel Kim will be going to China as a missionary this summer with Overseas Missionary Fellowship and Living Water Missions.

Samuel Kim will be director of Christian Education, Holy Mountain Korean Presbyterian Church, Toronto.

John Kirk will continue to pastor with the Free Methodist Church in Canada.

Lynda Kirk will continue to pastor with the Free Methodist Church in Canada.

Deborah Ko will be in full-time ministry with Child Evangelism Fellowship in Surrey, BC, where her husband pastors the Korean Baptist Church.

Réjean Lafamme, from the Brethren assemblies in Quebec, hopes to further his theological studies in francophone Europe and eventually teach in a Bible college in Quebec or overseas.

Hugo Lau will continue as the missionary of the new Chinese Presbyterian Church, Mississauga, ON.

David Lee will continue to serve as an elder of the Markham Chinese Presbyterian Church, Markham, ON.

Sang-Man Lee will be part of the ministerial staff of the Toronto First Korean Presbyterian Church, Toronto.

Fred Leung will become assistant pastor of the Montreal Chinese Baptist (BCOQ) Church, Montreal.

Kinson Leung will continue part-time studies toward his certification with the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy. Meanwhile, he plans to continue counselling with Meadowbrook Counselling Associates in Unionville, ON.

Bob Lewis will continue as the senior pastor of Forest Baptist (BCOQ) Church, Forest, ON.

William Lippman will continue as pastor of Odessa Free Methodist Church near Kingston, ON.

Jeff Loach will continue serving as minister of Durham Baptist Church, Durham, ON, as he prepares for ordination with the BCOQ.

Pak Loh will lead a mission team for Christian Children's Fund of Canada in the summer. In October he expects to be involved in a full-time ministry.

Keith Lohnes will continue as stewardship director at the national headquarters of the Free Methodist Church.

Jeremy Lowther plans to complete a General Assembly course in Ottawa and then pursue a full-time position with the Presbyterian Church in Canada as an assistant or senior minister.

Suk-Khuan Lum is planning to return to the secular work force and to visit her birth-country. She may continue to take courses at OTS in the future.

Brenda MacKay will continue working as an RN at Shouldice Hospital, Thornhill, ON, and teaching a ladies' Bible class at Bayview Glen (C&MA) Church.

Alistair Mair intends to pursue a career in a parachurch organization or similar outreach setting.

Dan Malcolm is planning to serve in youth ministry.

Lynn Marsh will continue on pastoral staff at Danforth Baptist/South Riverdale Community (BCOQ) Church, Toronto, ON.

Jack Meier will be completing his MDiv part-time while seeking a full-time ministry position.

Robyn Michell will be continuing on in the development of worship leadership, at present at Spring Garden Baptist (BCOQ) Church, North York, ON.

Bruce Mitchell is returning to work in Kenya with Africa Inland Mission at Rift Valley Academy, a school for the children of missionaries. He and his wife expect to be high school dorm parents for grade 11 boys, and Bruce will be teaching Bible, physical education and science.

Glen Nyhus will continue on the pastoral staff team at Danforth Baptist (BCOQ) Church, Toronto, giving leadership to their church-planting strategy.

Danny Park will be going to South Korea for a year in September in order to improve his capabilities as a second generation Korean youth worker.

Hang Bae Park will be involved in full-time ministry with a Korean church while studying Christian Education at Wheaton College.

Mark Pratt is presently looking for a youth ministry position.

Philip Primmer was married on May 2, and will be continuing at TV Ontario (seeking more on-air jobs) and managing his real estate business. He hopes to pursue missions projects in the future.

Sharon Ramsay will be getting married in July and will continue on with an MDiv in Counselling at OTS in September.

Bill Salloum is considering a tent-making opportunity with Humber Boulevard Baptist (BCOQ) Church, Etobicoke, ON, as well as further developing his ministry through music.

Marilyn Sapsford will be pursuing pastoral ministry in a church or parachurch context.

Roland Schlanker will continue to serve at Elim Lodge Conference Centre, after which he will take on a pastorate in Alberta with the Evangelical Church.

Brian Scott will continue to serve as pastor of Oakwood Baptist (FEBC) Church, Toronto.

Monica Simeon will continue coordinating the international students' ministry through Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship on the University of Toronto campus.

Narendra Singh plans to pursue his ThM at the Toronto School of Theology in order to equip himself for a teaching and church-planting ministry at the Rajasthan Bible Institute, India.

Shelley Skeet is presently studying art therapy at the Toronto Art Therapy Institute.

Bee Lee Soh is awaiting OMF acceptance as a missionary to Japan.

David Stewart intends to put into practise his youth ministry degree.

David Inkoo Suh will continue in his role as senior pastor at the Toronto Somang Korean Presbyterian Church, Scarborough, ON.

Ronnie Teoh will return to Malaysia and work with the Baptist Urban Teaching Centre, which trains church leaders in practical leadership skills.

Peter Thomas is seeking employment in the camping field.

Mark van der Kuur plans to pursue a call to pastoral and then missionary work with the Missionary Church of Canada.
